The EXPOSITOR has eight times the circulation, actual subscribers, of any other paper in this part of St. Clair county. Advertisers please make a note of this.

Subscribe for the EXPOSITOR. Independent politically, socially and financially, but respectful to all parties in regard to news. One dollar a year in advance.

When a man dies they who survive him ask what property he has left behind. The angel who bent over the dying man asks what good deeds he has sent before him.

Miss Tuna Welch started Tuesday morning for Los Angeles, Cal., where she will take up her residence in the future. The best wishes of her many friends here go with her.

The great and only Gilt Edge, Diamond Tooth Saws, warranted to do more work, do it easier and with less tiring than any saw made. Call and see them at Ferguson's hardware.

Reported that on Monday night last, George Van Wagner, who has been confined for some time in Sanilac County jail waiting trial for forgery, made good his escape by digging through the floor and under the wall of his cell.

It is said to think that Nebuchadnezzar after his gay life had to go to grass, but sadder the thought that so many men of promise and ability find early graves by carelessness in not checking a cold in its early stages by the use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

An interesting feature of a local newspaper, is its personal mention department. We shall be pleased if our readers will notify us when they have readers to visit them, or when they are about to leave home themselves. Don't be too modest about it now; give us the items.

The annual meeting of the Brockway Centre District Agricultural Society for the election of officers and transaction of other important business, will be held in the Village of Yale, on Monday, January 27, 1890. All who are interested in this society are respectfully requested to attend. 34t

Isaac McLaughlin, who lives one mile north of this village, reports that on January 2nd he found frogs and crawfish in the swamps and streams, and that a large number of tree toads were singing in his woods. He has a distinct remembrance of the weather for many years and says that he never knew or heard of similar instances.

E. F. Law has completed the map of the village and upon his return presented it to Harvey Tappan as a New Year's present. This map gives the location, description, and exact measurements of every description of land, lots or block, according to the official plat or survey. Many of these were taken from original deeds in the county register's office. It is a handsome and valuable piece of work and Mr. Tappan is correspondingly proud of it.

A cash balance—A pair of treasury scales.

If the banker wishes winter to pass by quickly, he can easily accomplish that end by rediscounting a good sized note payable March 1, 1890.

The Family Educator.—Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is a great family educator, and no family of children ought to be brought up without having ready access to this grand volume. It will answer hundreds of questions of each wide-awake child. It is an ever-present and reliable schoolmaster to the whole family.

A very funny thing happened Sunday in a certain church when the minister closed his sermon with these words: "We would be pleased, moreover, to have the young man who is standing outside the door come and make certain whether she is here or not. That would be a great deal better than opening the door half an inch and exposing the people in the last row of seats to a draught."

One Grand Rapids school teacher recently held 8-year-old Willie Logie while another flogged him with a ruler—flogged him very hard, too, it is claimed. The teacher who did it claims she did not flog him for the particular offense just then charged against him, but for several offenses committed in the past few months—a sort of cumulative flogging, so to speak. The school board will take a hand in the matter now, but in the meantime Willie has to stand up to take his meals.

The Moses of the present age is prompt pay, therefore give your customers to understand that that is the prophet you follow through the wilderness of trade, and who is to lead you into the promised land of fortune, and if your intending customer wishes to aid you in getting there, let him make a point of settling at once upon presentation of statement. It is wonderful how business settles down to a satisfactory basis when the customers are prompt in settling up. Look at your label on this paper.

Physicians fix the proper temperature of rooms in winter at 68 degrees. At this temperature one may be comfortably sitting quietly if he is sufficiently clothed. If with the mercury at 68 degrees he is not warm enough, more clothing or wraps should be put on, but the warmth of the room should not be increased. There are exceptions to all rules and doubtless there are cases of invalids and aged persons who require a higher degree of heat than above indicated. But for the majority of people heated above this limit are enervating to the occupants, and make them liable to invasion of various maladies that lie in wait during cool weather to pounce on the unwary.

Occasionally we learn from extracts like the following, which we clip from the Prohibition Era, of Princetown, Ind., that our Sam is still at the work he expounded some years ago, and that his efforts are appreciated where he labors. "At 3 o'clock Rev. Mr. Bettes, of Michigan, favored the large audience that had re-assembled at the hall with a splendid address. Rev. Bettes is a fine speaker and his address, which was strictly non-partisan, was replete with telling hits at the liquor traffic, illustrated by 'side splitting' anecdotes which kept his audience in a jolly good humor. Mr. Bettes has put in a number of years in amendment campaign work and knows just how to strike blows at this organized iniquity."

Perhaps at no other place in the county has there been such a display of holiday goods or so much business transacted as there has been at Gray & Robinson's, of Peck, during the last few weeks. A table about 28 feet in length was three stories in height, the upper story of which was arranged in steps, three on each side, to make a better display of those goods on that part, were filled to their utmost capacity with Christmas goods. On Saturday, December 21, these were partially emptied but re-filled for Monday, when they were again nearly emptied. Replenished again on Tuesday the eight clerks were scarcely able to get the goods off as fast as called for by the customers, and a large bill of handsome goods that arrived at about four o'clock p. m. of that day were virtually cleaned out at six. The tables are now five and ten cent counters, with articles on them for sale worth twice that amount, while the uppermost table still contains many useful and handsome things suitable for birthday presents, etc. Beside their large stock in the room on the first floor, a large room upstairs is filled with ready made clothing, ladies' cloaks, etc.; two large rooms with men's boots; two with unpacked groceries, and another very large one with doors, sash, etc., and the back room below contains a beautiful line of stoves, tinware, etc., making complete the stock of hardware. Large and handsomely-painted signs in brilliant colors, painted by Fred Locke, of Capac, whose ability for painting is already well known but can not well be exaggerated, extend the entire length of both sides of the immense building, and one of these would particularly attract the attention of any conversant with the art, it being a large one on which is painted a vase of beautiful ferns. These signs announce the great bargains that may be had in the various departments.

Wood Wanted.

The School Board of District No. 1, Brockway, will receive tenders for the furnishing of One Hundred cords of Wood, to be green beach and maple, four feet long, sawed ends, or same amount of mixed wood, hard and soft, equal parts. Wood to be delivered on school grounds at Yale; Fifty cords by April 1st, 1890; Fifty cords by Oct. 1st, 1890. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Bids to be opened Saturday, January 18th, 1890. HIRAM ALLEN, Moderator. A. W. FERGUSON, Director.
